400 VOLUNTEERS FROM OKLAHOMA WANTED

REFUSE TO WORK WITH JOHN SIMPSON

Oklahoma City, June 18.—E. H. Gipson, state adjutant general, yesterday received a telegram from Washington directing him to furnish 400 additional men with mechanical ability to be sent to the University of Texas at Austin for a special course in training.

The call is confined to registered white men, physically qualified for general military duty, but it may be filled by volunteers from classes 1, 2, 3 or 4.

The war department has informed General Gipson that Oklahoma ranks fourth in the class of soldiers furnished the national army. He asserted yesterday that the call for 400 additional men is an exceptional opportunity and that the war department is paying the state a high compliment in making such a liberal allotment for this call.

AUSTRIAN DRIVE GETS NOWHERE

ITALIANS NOT ONLY HOLD LINE BUT MAKE SOME GAINS IN GROUND.

(By the Associated Press)
Austria's offensive against the Italian front has been checked for the moment, if not brought to complete failure. Fighting has ceased in the mountain from Lake Garda to the Piave river, where the allies broke up the first enemy assaults. Along the Piave Austrians have been unable to advance from the western bank of the river. Despite months of preparation and stupendous preliminary bombardment, the Austrian attack in the north on the Asiago plateau and between the Brenta and Piave collapsed almost at its inception before French and Italian resistance. In counter thrusts Monday the Italians regained some of the mountain positions lost in the first rush. Around the important height of Montello the Italians still hold their positions awaiting further enemy efforts. Rome in the latest statement reports efforts to enlarge gains by the enemy on the western Piave bank between Zenson and Fossalta. Prisoners taken by the Italians, French and British now number 5,000 while Vienna claims 12,000 Italians taken. Emperor Charles is reported on the southern Trentino front directing the Austrian offensive.

Local engagements and small raids continue on the French front north-west of Soissons. Enemy artillery fire has increased along the Marne, east of Chateau-Thierry but there has been no infantry activity.

The little one had been seriously ill for some time, death coming Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.
Much sorrow has come into this home in the last few months. Only last August death claimed the husband and father and now another has gone. Fewer Suicides in Britain.
London, June 18.—The British Medical Journal find that the war has caused a marked decline in the proportion of suicides to the population. Among males the rate per million living was 157 in the ten years ending 1914, 151 in 1914 and 105 in 1915. In 1916 it was a little higher, 111.

The rate of suicide among women showed a fall from 47 in the years 1901-10 to 45 in 1914 and 1915, and 33 in 1916. The greatest reduction among men was at the ages of 45 to 65, whereas for women or later middle age the rate had not fallen at once.

The reason for this, according to the Journal, is the increased employment opened up by the war. Fresh interests and diversions have given the mind a new outlook on life.

DUNCAN DISCUSSES WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Mr. W. C. Duncan, chairman of the War Savings Stamps Drive, which takes place on June 28, was asked today what progress the campaign was making, and in reply stated: "The campaign seems to be going along in very fine condition so far as I can learn. The people are expecting cheerfully to meet at their respective school houses and places of meeting in the larger towns, and there are no slackers. Some are stingy and penurious and trying to make more money than others, but they will be weeded out. Everybody who is failing to do his duty will soon be known, and will be without the respect of the other patriotic liberty loving people."

"I believe that on June 28th at 2 o'clock there will be a large crowd at every school house, and every place designated in the larger towns, eager and anxious to make their assistance in connection with the pledges in this drive."

In Ohio the other day an old coal mine that had not been worked for many years was reopened and a petrified mule was dug up. The mine had not been worked for thirty years, and when it was abandoned the mule was left to its fate and turned to solid stone. This is the newspaper report, but we know too much about a mule to take chances. If it should become necessary for us to have any dealings with that petrified mule we'd never go within range of his heels.—Honey Grove (Tex.) Signal.

The law of compensation, of which Emerson had so much to say, runs through most of our affairs. If it took as much stovewood to cook a two-bit beefsteak as it used to the world would be ruined. Fortunately, we can cook our beefsteak with a match.—Honey Grove (Tex.) Signal.

The critics who belabored the administration about the conduct of the war seem to have subsided and gone back into their shells. Every investigation revealed the fact that the whole immense machine that has been created within the past year is the marvel of the age, in spite of small mistakes and obstructions, hence there is nothing to be said.

SEARCHING WORLD FOR PLATINUM

(By the Associated Press)
 Washington, June 18.—New chapters in the romance of platinum, once thrown away as waste but now the most sought after metal in the world, have been written since the war began. Nations are fighting for it. Adventurers are risking their lives to obtain it. Women spies and diplomatic agents are playing the game of international intrigue to control even an ounce of the "noble metal" as it is known to geologists, so valuable has it become and so necessary to the prosecution of the world war. The United States government recently took a hand in the game by commandeering all unworked platinum in this country, setting the price at $105 an ounce, as compared with $22.65 ten years ago. Even this action, however, has not obtained sufficient of the metal for war purposes. Officials who failed to heed the warnings of platinum experts at the beginning of the war are wondering how they can retrieve their error in not vigorously meeting the national necessity by using every legitimate means to obtain platinum. For, the total amount of known platinum throughout the world is only 4,000,000 ounces, of which about one-fourth is in the United States. Much of that is virtually ir reclaimable through use in dental work and personal jewelry, and the output, since the Russian debacle, has fallen to a fraction of what it was in times of peace.

It is the last reason which is giving officials so much concern. Russia has been the source of most of the world's platinum and, in 1913, was credited with a production of 250,000 Troy ounces, Columbia with 15,000. Next South Wales and Tasmania 1,275. United States (California and Oregon being almost the only producing states) only 483. Borneo and Sumatra 200 and Canada 59. The German invasion of Russia

THE chef has many resources entirely out of the reach of the housewife—but everybody can get Mazola. Use Mazola instead of butter, lard or "frying fats," and you have discovered the secret of serving your fried foods crisp, delicate and digestible.

Mazola never takes up odors or flavors—or carries the smell of burnt fat into the food. You can use it over and over again to the last drop—even if you fry fish or onions in it.

Mazola is perfectly delicious on salads—with a delicate flavor that many prefer to olive oil, and at less than half the cost.

Mazola makes a perfect shortening for cakes, bread and pastry. Requires no melting. Saves time, prevents waste.

SAVORY RICE CROQUETTES
 Brown two small onions (cut fine) in 1 tablespoon of Mazola, then add 1/2 red or green sweet pepper and cook onions and pepper in two cups of tomatoes until done and the whole measure about a cupful. Season with salt, pepper and cayenne to taste. Add this mixture to two cups of cold boiled salted rice, which must be dry and is therefore better to be steamed in a double boiler if possible—add an egg and mould into croquettes and let stand six or seven hours. Dip in egg and cracker and fry in deep, hot Mazola.

gave the enemy the opportunity of replenishing his stocks of platinum, to the detriment of the Allies. Mining in Russia virtually has ceased now, even if the metal could be shipped out of the country, and the world looks to Columbia for platinum. Suggestions for a government monopoly of platinum have been advanced in the Colombian congress. Whatever action is taken, the fortunes of war will mean wealth for the southern republic.

One of the most spectacular feats of the war was the concentration of 20,000 ounces of platinum in Russia by a young American mining engineer, attached to the embassy there, who recognized the importance of obtaining the metal. Each precious brick, wrapped in a leather cover, was brought half-way across the world to the United States and turned over to the government for use in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, a constituent of explosives, for the manufacture of contact points in electrical apparatus and other uses necessary to war. An interesting history of platinum is given by the Latin-American division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Platinum was discovered in what is now Columbia in 1735, by a Spaniard named Don Antonio de Ulloa, who accompanied a French scientific expedition, and his account of it was the first information regarding the metal to be brought to the attention of Europeans. Its resistibility to acids and the difficulty of working it were remarked upon, but it was not considered to be nearly as precious as gold, and was used at times by counterfeiters as a basis for coins. It was not until the middle of the nineteenth century that the demand for platinum for use in chemical laboratories and for electrical uses brought its value up to the point where it ranked as one of the most precious metals.

In the placer mining of gold in Columbia it was formerly thrown away as waste, and when the rise in price made it more valuable than gold the ground on which the waste had been thrown became in its turn a field for mining operations, and even the streets of the principal center of gold refining in Columbia, Quibdo, were torn up and the soil washed for particles of the new treasure. One man tore down his store in order to get at the ground beneath, and found so much platinum that he was enabled to rebuild and make an extra $4,000 for his trouble.

Platinum is recovered principally from the beds of streams, the particles having been deposited there through erosion of large rocks, classified geologically as "tertiary conglomerates." The platinum grains are found with gold, the proportion varying from 5 to 50 per cent of platinum. The two metals are recovered by washing the sand and gravel of streams.

The marked rise in the price of platinum in the last two or three years has considerably stimulated mining activities in Columbia, especially on the part of the native miners.

Present imports of Columbian platinum by the United States represents almost the total visible exports of that country.

MORE TRADE BETWEEN ARGENTINE AND AFRICA

Buenos Aires, May 20 (Correspondence Associated Press).—A very important commercial intercourse has developed within the last few months between the Argentine Republic and South Africa. This is all the more striking because there was not enough trade between the two countries a year ago to be worth mentioning.

tions that is rapidly assuming large proportions.

This commissioner then returned to South Africa are such as to have aroused interest and surprise among Argentines. For example, the South African Union either has imported or is in the act of importing 13,500 tons of steel rails and accessories valued at $300,000; 24,000 pairs of shoes valued at $15,000; slaughter house by-products such as bonemeal, dried blood, etc., valued at $15,000; leather to the value of more than $30,000; 10,000 casks of linseed oil; 20,000 cases of canned meats, valued at $45,000; locally manufactured chemical products, mattress wire and between 700 and 800 tons of wheat. South Africa also is buying 800,000 Argentine hardwood railway ties.

But the trade is not all one way. Argentina has recently taken from South Africa hessians to the value of 20,000 pounds, ostrich feathers valued at 2,500 pounds, tea, lucerne seed, wines, brandy and gin, as well as coal in considerable quantities. Two cargoes of South African coal have arrived here within the last few days and more is on the way. This coal has been thoroughly tried on the railways and is giving entire satisfaction, so that it probably will form one of the principal articles of trade between the two countries in the future.

It is of particular interest to note the growth of Argentine industries to an extent that permits of the export on a comparatively large scale of manufactured goods such as boots and shoes, and semi-manufactured goods such as leather.

The market for Argentine shoes and leather in South Africa appears to be excellent. Already Argentine representatives of these industries have visited or are visiting South Africa on behalf of their factories, with satisfactory business results.

CHAMBERLAIN FAVORS RAISING DRAFT AGE

Washington, June 18.—Support for Provost Marshal General Crowder's proposal to extend the army draft to men between 18 and 45 years, was given today by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate military committee, at hearings on the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill.

"I have always advocated having it apply to men of those ages," said Senator Chamberlain, "and think we will yet come to it. There are lots of men over thirty who really are doing nothing and ought to be reaching."

Unanimous approval of the house provision authorizing the president to call all men of draft age who can be trained and equipped, was voted by the military sub-committee considering the appropriation bill.

There was an extra pedal appendage on each foot.
"Will you accept me with only ten?" asked Lundberg.
He was given an affirmative answer. The would-be sea soldier hurried to a surgeon, and spurning an anaesthetic, calmly watched the amputation. In a few days he will be wearing the Marine uniform.

CHILDREN OF PARIS
SENT TO COUNTRY
(By the Associated Press)
Paris, June 18.—Bombardment of Paris by big German guns has drawn attention to the poor children of the city and great efforts have been made to send as many as possible to the country districts for safety.

In ordinary years they spend their summers in airless attics and hot, dusty streets. This year they will breathe good air and have wholesome country food. Most of the children are being sent free of all expense to their parents and are provided with an "outfit" consisting of shoes, stockings and underwear.

The cost of keeping a child in the French countryside is said to average only about $7.50 a month.

Prominent Georgia Physician Recommends Tanlac to His Patients.

Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga., one of the best known members of the medical profession in the state of Georgia, makes a statement that will undoubtedly produce a profound impression throughout America.

"In my thirty years of active practice as a licensed physician in the state of Georgia," says Dr. Edwards, "I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results. I hear people on all sides telling of the benefits they have derived from its use."

"Tancal is simply the talk of my town. I have no hesitancy in recommending the medicine; and as a matter of fact, I am prescribing it for my patients almost every day."

"Only a few days ago a well-known woman of Fayetteville came to me and told me about the remarkable relief her daughter had gained from the use of this medicine. She said her daughter had been confined to her bed for three years with what had been pronounced pellagra, and that after using Tanlac for a short time she was able to get about and was on the road to recovery."

"But this is only instance. People in all walks of life and around our little city are giving similar endorsements to the medicine. Seldom a day passes that someone does not come to me and say something about the good results they are getting from the use of Tanlac."

"Several unusual gains in weight have been reported by some of our most prominent people, and I have treated some stubborn cases of indigestion, catarrhal conditions, and organic disorders and secured splendid results with Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Company, and by leading druggists and dealers everywhere.

M. L. CHAMBERS
FOR REPRESENTATIVE

To the Voters of Pontotoc County:
I hereby announce my candidacy for Representative in the next Legislature, subject to action of the Democratic Primary, August 6, 1918.

I have no long statement of principles upon which I base my candidacy. The only policy I know is to do right. The only question to be asked me is, Am I a Patriot? The only laws to be passed are those to aid our National government and her Allies in ridding the world and society of the hydra-headed monster known as Germanism. These laws will have my vigorous support. One such law I shall urge is to compel every man and woman from 16 to 60 to engage in useful work in prosecution of the war, thus ridding our state of undesirable characters such as traveling shows, quack agents and others engaged in sinecure occupations.

The subject next greatest to the war is that of education and I shall be lined up with those who do not believe it is possible to do too much for this cause. I think our state is put to shame when we paid our present small salary now paid our state superintendent and other educators.

As I am a laborer it will be impossible for me to see and address personally each voter in the county, but I assure you I will see all I can and I elected to the office will do my best to fill it with distinction and I will be the representative of all the people without fear or favor. As many are not acquainted with me I give the following about myself:

32 years old; raised in Atlanta, Georgia, where I worked for 10 years for daily papers. Came west in 1909 where I learned the printer's trade in Oklahoma City and Texas, working in Oklahoma City and other places in this state. Purchased weekly papers for three years; have been machine operator for the Ada News during the past year and my life in this community speaks for itself. Am member of Methodist Church, South, Woodmen of World, Woodmen Circle, Knights & Ladies of Security, and the International Typographical Union.

In politics I am a dyed-in-the-wool, Woodrow Wilson, progressive Democrat. Have been for Wilson since 1912 and in case the war continues expect to see him lead the party to victory again in 1920, with Roosevelt at the head of the opposition. As a progressive Democrat I believe in all such measures as Double or Preferential Primary, Woman Suffrage, Minimum Wage and Hours laws for women and children, but as I stated at first the war is the only issue up now and it will receive my active support.

I believe I am qualified to make you an able Representative and will appreciate your help in electing me to the place.

Very truly,
M. L. CHAMBERS.

MEXICO SUFFERING FROM FOOD SHORTAGE

Mexico City, June 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Nearly a quarter of a million bushels of corn, valued at more than $1,000,000 was distributed in the eight months ending last March, by the Mexican Food Commission to relieve the food crisis that has existed in this republic.

Partial failure of the 1917 corn crop, upon which the greater part of Mexico's 15,000,000 inhabitants depend for sustenance, was the primal factor in the formation of the commission. There was danger of famine in some parts of the country, and it was difficult to transport food to these regions. The surplus that obtained in other parts of Mexico, by its work, the commission averted the threatened famine, stabilized the price of corn and, in a great measure, prevented speculation in it.

After presenting the facts before the consul general of the United States here, an export permit was obtained from the United States government to cover the importation of 300,000 bushels of corn monthly from December 1, 1917, to October 30, 1918. The commission now is endeavoring to secure another similar permit.

The first shipments from the United States, which were bought through a Kansas City firm, were distributed in various cities and towns along the border, where there was a great scarcity and where the price was exceedingly high. Later the distribution was extended to other parts of the republic, notably to the large mining camps where the companies bought many car loads from the commission, stored it and then retailed it at much below cost price to their employees.

Chambers of Commerce, located at or near these points, have either been the direct distributors or have had charge of the distribution. This supervision, however, was not necessary in the case of the mining and industrial concerns who benefited greatly by the importations, for there was danger that they might have had to lower down their plants had the food supply for their employees been exhausted.

Another phase of the commission's activities was the establishment in the City of Mexico of 40 stores, which retail corn to the laboring classes at about 25 per cent below market prices. These stores, according to the report, are selling about 2,500 bushels daily. It is planned to start, as soon as possible, a ticket system whereby each ticket holder will receive about 25 pounds of corn weekly. An attempt by the commission to put into effect a scheme for the distribution of sugar similar to that for corn, has not yet been completed.

In addition to the aid extended by the government, the commission has received valuable co-operation from various large mining companies, mostly those backed by foreign capital. One mine at El Oro, State of Mexico, converted four huge steel "Pachuca Tanks" into a miniature grain elevator, capable of holding thousands of bushels. This grain is retailed at prices below cost through the company store to its employees.

When conditions forced the closing of a great smelter at Aguas Calientes, the company, to keep its idle employees from want, continued the distribution of corn from its storehouses at the customary prices.

HOME PAPER PRAISES
NEW ADA PASTOR

The Honey Grove (Texas) Signal has the following to say of Rev. Bonnie Grimes, recently called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Ada:

"Last Sunday Rev. Bonnie Grimes, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, tendered his resignation and announced to the congregation that he had decided to accept the call to the pastorate of the church at Ada, Oklahoma. A year ago Bro. Grimes was tendered a call by the Ada church, which he declined, and this year the call was repeated. Some two weeks ago Bro. Grimes went to Ada, held a short meeting, looked over the field of work, considered the matter prayerfully from every viewpoint and finally decided to accept the call so kindly tendered him by the Oklahoma congregation."

"It was a sad day with the Baptist congregation last Sunday, and the worshippers found no joy in the beauties of the day or the sanctuary, nor in the eloquence of the discourse. Their pastor has been with them nine years, but he has grown more deeply into their love as the years have rolled on and they feel that his departure will prove a sorrow and loss to them almost too heavy to be borne."

Bro. Grimes and wife came to us nine years ago. They have labored faithfully in season and out of season for the good of the church and the people. Under their labors the church has enjoyed the greatest growth and done the best work in its long history. A handsome, roomy and well appointed brick chapel has taken the place of an unpretentious frame structure, and the same has been thoroughly equipped as a workshop for the Lord. The membership has also been materially increased, and in every way a fine work has been done. Having been so useful to the town and church, having shared all our joys and our sorrows so long, and their lives having been so closely blended with the lives of our people, Mr. and Mrs. Grimes will tear many heart-strings when they go to another field, and our people will miss them as they always miss those they love dearly. It is in this case as in many others when the truly good and useful go from us. We don't realize how closely they were bound to us, or how much they were contributing to our happiness and well being until the sorrowful message came that they were going away. While it will be hard for these good people to tear themselves from their friends here, and hard for their friends to give them up, all may find sustaining comfort in the fact that they have done a splendid work and will leave the church in fine condition."

Bro. Grimes is not sure when he will leave for Ada. He may remain here through July unless the congregation should secure a pastor before that time."

Which Are You?

ARE you snug and comfortable over here—safe from suffering, while the boys "over there" are hurling their bodies against the steel of the Hun to protect you? You are doubtless needed at home to keep things going here, but we all want to do more than that when the boys are doing so much. And you can, almost without moving from your easy chair.

You can back up those boys of ours who are giving their lives for us by simply saving your pennies and lending them to your Government.

Every Penny Counts

In this hour of the Nation's greatest need every penny counts. Your penny, my penny, everybody's penny. For money will win this war. Every time you add the single pennies of a hundred million people, you have a million dollars. And every million dollars lent to the Government saves twenty thousand lives, according to Government figures.

So no matter how slim your purse—no matter how little you have left over after the week's bills are paid, you can help. For every single penny counts, and every penny you can spare is needed.

Can Cash W. S. S. Any Time

If you want to sell your War Savings Stamps any time before that, you will get what you paid for it with interest at three per cent.

Ask Your Children to Help

If you can spare $4.15 you can get a $5 War Savings Stamp at once. And at the same time be sure to buy a 25c Thrift Stamp besides, so you can begin saving for your second $5 stamp. The more you buy, the more you are doing to show the boys over there that you are standing by them and the sooner will victory come.

Remember, You Lend, You Don't Give

When you buy War Savings Stamps you are making your pennies fight for you and work for you too.

They help win the war and they pay you interest amounting to 4 per cent. Even if it were not your duty to lend, it would be good business to do it because your money earns money for you.
